

Revolutionize Your Learning! Transform Your World.

Learning to Listen, Learning to Teach The Principles and Practices of Dialogue Education

Dialogue Education™ is a learning-centered, change-focused system for successful adult learning - learning that has an immediate impact on the job, at home and across organizations.

...These principles can transform lives and organizations.

*This training is priceless! It is an investment worth every dollar.
The results will speak for themselves!*

--Ouida Cooper Rodriguez,
Training Director, Women's Initiative

Learning to Listen, Learning to Teach provides the building blocks of Dialogue Education™ and provides participants a powerful system for teaching and curriculum design that results in better learning, transfer and retention. Switching the focus from "what the instructor says about a topic" to "what the participants will do with the content," this four-day course merges proven principles for successful learning with a focus on engagement, practice, constructive feedback, and accountability between learners and teacher.

By the end of this intensive 4-day program, participants will have...

- reviewed Adult Learning Theory
- practiced doing a Learning Needs Assessment
- used the Seven Steps of Design
- Named/practiced the use of cognitive, affective and psycho-motor skills
- examined how to make learning real, meaningful, and relevant
- designed and taught using the Dialogue Education™ System
- worked in and used small group effectiveness techniques
- named and used the Principles and Practices for sustainable learning
